Man o' War Was Scratched

But getting back to the Great Amerian, it seemed really a pity that the Glen Riddle Farm scratched Man o' Var, universally regarded as the best 40-year-old colt seen so far, for with its 130 pounds he and Bonnie Mary would have met on equal terms. And here are many good judges of the opinion that the filly would have taken he colt in the race she ran yesterday. Bonnie Mary's victory was most impressive. She was not the favorite, J. W. May's Head Over Heels, another avorite, which carried only 112 pounds, to most of the play; first, because of he disparity in weights, and, secondly, because Bonnie Mary in her last start of June 14, at Jamaica, in the Rossdaje takes, for two-year-old fillies, at five urlongs, was beaten by Toujours. Hany were of the opinion that the impost was too much for her courage.

Beanie Mary redeemed not only her ormer prestige but established an alibi for the earlier reverse against the
